Work Details: The engineer visited the site. During inspection and testing, it was found that the barriers operate correctly when not paired but fail to function when connected as master and slave—there is no closure, the waiting-for-passage report is acknowledged, and the traffic light does not switch in this mode. After speaking with Daniel on-site, it was confirmed that the technician who made the changes used a laptop and will return next week, possibly to resolve the issue. If the problem persists, a full MGC Pro manual will be required, along with additional time to trace and diagnose the faults.	£367.50
